

A photograph of an anti-militarist gathering in Brighton, UK, on May 2nd-3rd, 2008. The scene is a busy street with a large crowd of people. In the foreground, a woman holds a white sign with the text 'STOP WAR. THINK PEACE.' written in black, hand-drawn letters. Behind her, a line of police officers in blue uniforms and helmets is visible, some wearing high-visibility green vests. Further back, there are white vans and more people. The background shows green trees and a clear sky. The overall atmosphere is one of a large public demonstration.

The anti-militarist network invites all who are prepared to take action against global militarism for a two day conference at the Cowley Club Social Centre in Brighton on the 2nd and 3rd of May 2009.

This conference aims to:

- 1. Support the Smash EDO Mayday mobilisation on May the 4th in Brighton.*
- 2. Plan for resistance to the NATO Parliamentary Assembly in November in Edinburgh.*
- 3. Continue in efforts to build an effective support network of anti-militarist direct action*

Food and crash-pad convergence will be provided on a donation basis. If you need somewhere to stay and for all other inquiries please contact:

We declare our opposition to the global arms trade and all its supporting industries, as well as armed bodies which defend the power and privilege of the few at the expense of human well-being and environmental sustainability.

The anti-militarist network aims to cooperate on a non hierarchical basis. We make all decisions using consensus methods and will aim to make our conference a safe space free from sexism, racism, homophobia and all other forms of discrimination.
